

Are you passionate about working with children, families and across generations?

St Luke's Anglican Church, Toowoomba is seeking to appoint a person to work across generations in our church community, particularly focussing on developing ministry with children and families.

The 'Intergenerational Minister' will work as part of a team in our church community, including volunteers.

The position is, initially, 16 hours per week. There are some set days when programs are run, but otherwise the days and hours are flexible.

A position description is available from St Luke's Parish Office:

(07) 4639 1910 stluke.tmba@bigpond.com

And on our parish website: <https://www.stlukestoowoomba.org.au/>

Applications can be submitted:

- in person at the Parish Office (152 Herries Street, Toowoomba) between 9am and 1pm weekdays;
- or by email, stluke.tmba@bigpond.com;
- or by post (PO Box 2434, Toowoomba, QLD 4350).

Applications for this position should:

- be sent to The Reverend Canon Paul Mitchell;
- address the criteria and job description included in the position description;
- provide contact details for at least two referees.

Applications close at 5.00pm on Friday 25 August.
